PREPARE | EMPOWER | INSPIRE

PARENT & FAMILY COMPACT

2022-2023 School Year

Prepare • Empower • Inspire

A Parent & Family compact is a written agreement that outlines how families, the entire school staff, and students participating in activities, services, and programs funded by Title I, Part A, of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act (ESEA) will share the responsibility for improving overall student academic achievement and the means by which the school and parents will build and develop a partnership that will help children achieve local, state, and federal high standards. In summary, this specific school-parent & family compact serves as written documentation of the New Brunswick Public School District's commitment to ensuring parents and families are welcomed, engaged, and valued as stakeholders in the education of their children.

LINCOLN ANNEX SCHOOL WILL COMMIT TO:

Provide high-quality curriculum and instruction in a supportive and effective learning environment that enables the participating children to meet the State' student academic achievement standards

Hold parent-teacher conferences during which this compact will be discussed as it relates to the individual child's achievement.

Provide parents with frequent reports on their children's progress.

Provide parents reasonable access to staff. Specifically, staff will be available for consultation with parents.

Provide parents opportunities to volunteer and participate in their child's class, and to observe classroom activities.

- Teach all students according to the state's challenging standards, using approved curriculum resources and assessments.
 - Provide ongoing professional development and support to all teachers to ensure effective instructional practices are used in all classrooms.
 - Participate in collaborative learning teams to ensure understanding of standard expectations and to develop lessons that allow students to think critically and creatively.

 - Hold an annual interactive meeting to present information on the school's Title I program, curriculum, assessments, and the school's state and federal accountability status.
 - Provide multiple opportunities for families to ask questions and give input into the Title I programs through PTO meetings, program and school level meetings, and continuous Parent University workshops.

 - Provide clear expectations for student behavior and academic learning.
 - Work with grade level teams and educational specialists to appropriately scaffold and differentiate instructional tasks to maximize student learning.
 - Offer free tutoring services and a variety of resources for students who have unfinished learning as evidenced by assessments and other multiple measures.
 - Use a Multi-tiered System of Support (MTSS) to ensure that students are provided additional opportunities for instruction in areas in which student are still developing understanding.
 - Report Cards: Trimester (Gr. PK-K) Marking Period (Gr. 1-12); Interim Report Cards (Pre-K-12); Interim Progress Reports for SEL, ESL, Students w/Disabilities

THE FACTS

• Students whose parents are highly involved in their school will average about .5 to .6 of a standard deviation in overall educational outcomes

• Family participation in education is twice as predictive of student academic success as socioeconomic status.

• Students with highly involved parents can experience learning gains in reading and math.

• Students whose parents know about higher level programs, like AP classes, are likely to be in them.

Standards what students are expected to learn in reading, math and other subjects in each grade.

Assessments the process of measuring academic skills and learning, and your child will be assessed at many points during their schooling.

Differentiated instruction is a teaching approach that tailors instruction to students' different learning needs.

Multi-tiered System of Support (MTSS) a framework designed to help schools identify struggling students early and intervene quickly.
